

AirFly

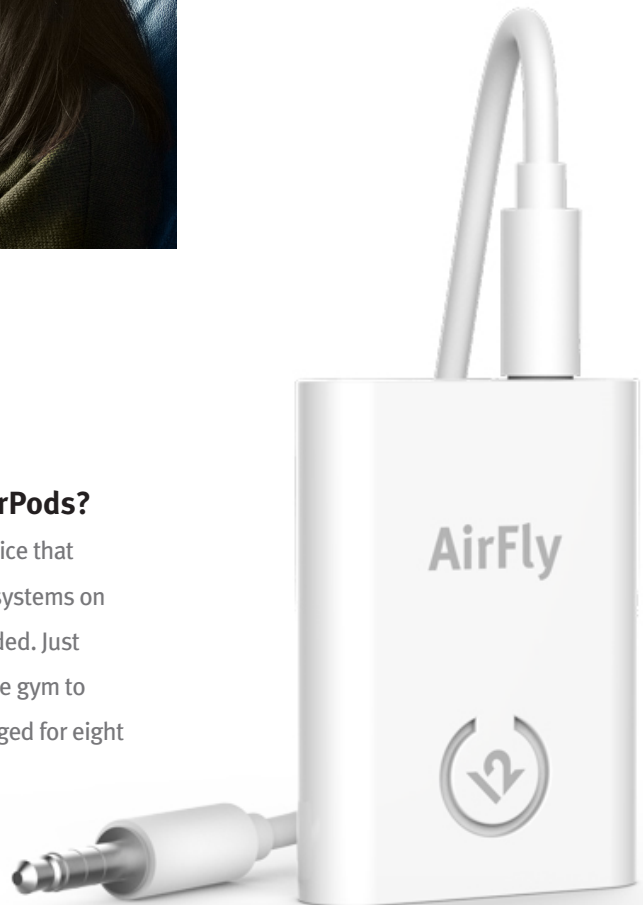

wireless transmitter for AirPods
& wireless headphones

Wish you could listen to in-flight movies with your AirPods?

Now you can with AirFly from Twelve South. AirFly is a tiny bluetooth device that connects AirPods (or any other wireless headphones) to entertainment systems on planes, in fitness centers and anywhere else wired headphones are needed. Just plug AirFly into the headphone jack on an airplane seat or treadmill at the gym to listen movies or shows with your AirPods. It's that easy. AirFly stays charged for eight hours and includes a USB charging cable and travel pouch.

Key facts:

- Converts a headphone jack into a wireless headphone connection
- Allows wireless headphones to work with wired headphone jacks
- Use to pair Apple AirPods with in-flight entertainment systems
- Listen to your health club's TVs with your wireless sport headphones
- Built-in battery lasts up 8 hours & recharges via USB
